SCHOOL BOARD HEAD HANDS CWA REPORTS MALICIOUSLY GARBLED

High School Board Protests Stories as Inspired by Politics

A news story carried in Tuesday's North Shore edition of the Chicago Herald and Examiner regarding the shakeup among CWA workers at the Antioch high school was sharply protested by the school board in a statement given out Wednesday by George White, president of the board.

The local correspondent, according to White's statement, secured the wrong information or maliciously garbled such information.

The misunderstanding started Tuesday following the publication of a news story carrying the "information" which is deemed to have contained several misstatements which were pointed out by the school board.

G. School Painting Project Is Approved

H. S. Applies for More CWA Hours; Classes to Resume Monday

The high school project calling for 750 hours to paint and decorate the interior of the new building was approved by the CWA office Wednesday, according to Ralph Claiborne, who stated the work will probably be completed Monday.

Classes began Thursday, Jan. 4, at the Christmas recess, and will continue as usual, by using available rooms in the old building and adjoining groups, so that the work can be completed two rooms before the new building is ready to be used, which will reduce the strong odor and turpentine fumes.

Earl Pliman has been assigned as foreman. The school board has asked the CWA to transfer the other seven workers from the High School project, which although not completed, is awaiting the grant of additional hours to the original number. Classes at the High School will be resumed Monday.

Sunday School Workers to Hold Institute

The Lake County Council of Religious Education will hold a county institute for Children's Division workers on Saturday, January 13, morning and afternoon sessions, at the First Baptist Church, Waukegan. Mrs. Eva E. Ailing, county Children's division superintendent, is in charge of the preparations, assisted by a committee of five district superintendents. The school workers of the county are expected to attend.

Class sessions will begin on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, doing actual class at 9 o'clock. The instruction of Miss Rev. F. M. Flahenbach, Deerfield; Mrs. Telephorum, Waukegan, and C. W. Waukegan, competent and experienced teachers in religious education. The topic of the morning session will be "The Child and His Needs" and the afternoon session will be "The Child and His Needs" and the afternoon session will be "The Child and His Needs".

The institute will open at 9 A. M. with a demonstration of Mary worship, led by Mrs. Robert John, of Waukegan, and the afternoon session will convene at 1:30 p. m. when Mrs. H. M. Pier of Highland Park will lead in a demonstration of Junior worship service.

An interesting exhibition of handwork which may be used in the teaching of religion will be shown at the institute.

H. S. Basketball Squads To Play Libertyville High

The Antioch Township High School basketball squads travel to Libertyville Friday night, January 5, for the first 1934 Conference game. Libertyville has suffered but one loss this season, and probably will put up a scrappy fight. The Antioch and Libertyville Lightweight teams are tied in the conference standings, which are as follows:

ED. BROWN WILL RUN FOR SHERIFF

Avon Township Supervisor Makes Statement to Voters

Edward A. Brown, Avon township supervisor, who is a Republican candidate for sheriff of Lake county, today issued the following statement to voters:

"Because there has appeared in the press and otherwise certain statements made by my political opponents and by persons advocating the candidacy of other candidates for the office of sheriff, it seems proper that at this time I should address myself to my fellow citizens of Lake County.

"I am announcing myself here and now that I will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of sheriff.

"Had the promise of another candidate for this office been kept to me in 1932, I would have refrained from entering the campaign. But that promise was not kept; it was deliberately and willfully broken and I am not under obligation now, nor was I then, to keep out of the race. I ran for Sheriff of Lake County four years ago and the support that I received at that time at the hands of the voters of Lake County insured me of the confidence of the people of this County.

"The many supporters of my candidacy in 1930 and hundreds of other voters in the Republican primary in that year who supported other candidates for sheriff then, have come voluntarily to me in recent weeks to urge my candidacy this April. They feel, I have been assured, that success is not only probable, but almost certain.

"All my life I have been a Republican. I have worked in every general election for every candidate on the Republican ticket. I have never played politics at the expense of the party, and I have never 'bolted' or deserted the party's ticket for any candidate to satisfy any real or fancied personal injury. I do not intend to do so next November, whatever may be the fate of my candidacy this spring.

"For many years I have been engaged in the retail hardware business in Round Lake. It is there that I made my home, reared and educated my family.

"Since the retirement of 'Uncle Andrew' White from the board of supervisors, I have served the people of Avon Township, which includes the villages of Grayslake and Round Lake, as their representative on the county board and poormaster.

"My service on the county board has given me an intimate knowledge of conditions in all parts of the county. I know the workings of the sheriff's office, realize fully his duties and responsibilities, and intend wholeheartedly to carry out those duties and responsibilities and obligations to the satisfaction of all of the people of Lake County.

"I am entering the campaign under no obligation to any group, faction, individual, save that obligation that every officeholder owes to the electorate that has placed him in a position of public trust.

"My appeal for the Republican nomination is directed to all members of the party who are interested in good government, in the efficient and honest management of this important office, and in the nomination of a candidate who can and will be certain of triumph in November."

BRIGHT TO SPEAK AT P. T. A. MEETING

L. O. Bright, principal of the Antioch Township High School, will speak at the Parent-Teachers' meeting to be held at the grade school at 8 p. m., Monday evening, January 8. His subject will be "Soon the High School."

Other numbers on the program will include several vocal numbers by Mrs. Walter Johnson of Lake Forest, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Mapletorpe. One group of the songs will be of Mrs. Mapletorpe's own composition.

Mrs. Fern Lux, first grade teacher, will review the current number of the Child Welfare magazine.

You May Get Some Wooden Letters

If you receive a letter from Aberdeen, Wash., you may find that it is written on wood. Business houses, chambers of commerce, etc., are sending out typewritten letters on wood. By a new process wood is now produced so fine that it can be inserted in a typewriter and written upon.

Legion Appointments And Delegates Are Named by Commander

Commander Walter Hills read the names of several who have been appointed to positions in the post at the meeting held Thursday evening, January 4. Appointments were as follows: Dr. David Deering, post physician; Dr. George Jensen, child welfare chairman; Adolf Pesat, community chairman; and Walter Hills, Boy Scout chairman.

Two additional delegates to the County Council were named as a result of the new by-laws just accepted which call for three delegates and three alternates. Alonzo Runyard and Chris Larson are the newly appointed delegates, and L. J. Zimmerman, Walter Hills, Laurel Powles, and Arthur Mapletorpe are those previously named.

Philip Simpson Leaves For Mexico On Movie Expedition

To Go with Jackson Dering Expedition to Visit Mexican Estate

Philip Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simpson of Paschenburg, will probably leave New York tomorrow with the Jackson Dering movie expedition to the south, far down the west coast of Mexico, beyond Central America and the equator, perhaps to the Galapagos Islands.

Two months ago Mr. Dering purchased the steam and sailing vessel Intrepid, and since then with his family, he has been making plans for a departure to the south. Formerly a competitor of Sir Thomas Lipton, the Intrepid is a handsome vessel, 200 feet over all. Phil and several companions have spent the past month in helping to recondition the boat preparatory to sailing.

The trip is officially known as the Jackson K. Dering expedition, and will include Mr. and Mrs. Dering, Sr., about thirty friends, a scientist, a camera man, a movie director, and sound equipment weighing 150 pounds. The expedition will probably take about six months.

Setting sail from New York, the Intrepid will head for the west coast of Mexico, where the party will make its headquarters at the vast estate of Dr. Dering, Los Mochis, in Sinaloa. It was Mr. Dering's late father, who organized the real company that bears the family name, who bought the estate, situated far from the beaten path. It is full of historical interest. The surrounding towns were on a map made especially for the king of Spain 70 years before the Pilgrims landed in America. When the late Mr. Dering purchased it, the deeds had been transferred only once since they were originally issued for the Spanish king.

There are few white people in this country, but many interesting Indian tribes. The Derings have a handsome home near Lake Villa and another in Chicago at 900 North Michigan avenue.

Anna Drom Elected President of H. S. Alumni Association

Miss Anna Drom was elected president of the Antioch Township H. S. Alumni Association at the seventh annual banquet and dance held at the high school Thursday evening, Dec. 28. Miss Drom was graduated with the Class of '15, and is now teacher of the Hickory school, five miles east of Antioch.

Other officers elected were: vice president, Walter Forbrich, Class of '15; secretary-treasurer, Mary Galger, '29; corresponding secretary, Mildred Hulik, '25; athletic manager, Robert King, '32; and historian, Helen Cribb, '24.

Rev. Samuel Holden of the Millburn Congregational Church was the principal speaker of the evening. He enlarged on the maxim, "Love Thy Neighbor."

George White, president of the school board, gave a welcoming speech and told of the CWA projects being carried out in the school building and grounds.

Prim. L. O. Bright gave a summary of the year's work, introduced new teachers, and accounted for several former teachers. Toastmaster was Lloyd Atwell, 1933 president of the Association.

The second alumni bulletin, edited by Glimma Roberts, historian, was issued to all present. As the first bulletin discussed chiefly the classes' personnel, this edition recounted such information as class colors, flowers, mottoes, donations to school activities, etc.

A roll call of classes was taken during the banquet, the Class of '33 leading with 17 members present. The Class of '32 followed with twelve members present; '31 was third with ten; '30 fourth with eight.

The banquet was prepared by the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. Church, and efficiently served by members of the Junior class.

Following the dinner, the dance was held in the auditorium, with music furnished by Percy Gustafson and his four-piece orchestra, Waukegan.

New Year's guests at the home of Mrs. Margaret Brogan were Mrs. Maud Hurligan and two sons, Robert and Peter, Kenosha; and Patsy and Jerry Hurligan, Milwaukee, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt entertained John Hunt and Mrs. Marie Doan, Chicago, on New Year's day. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zadny, Chicago, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mann.

Miss Anna Geyer and Tony Himmel, St. Paul, Minn., who spent the Christmas holidays at the Joseph Wetzel home, returned to their home Sunday.

Miss Clara Sorenson, who is visiting her uncle in Julesburg, Colorado, will remain for several weeks.

Harold Nelson and Dan Williams returned to their studies at Northern Wesleyan University Tuesday with Doris Crenna, Grayslake.

The Misses Lillian Vykuta, Hazel Hawkins, and Eileen Osmond, Antioch, and Ruth Crenna, Grayslake, returned to their studies at Northern State Teachers' College, DeKalb, Ill., early this week.

Miss Glimma Roberts returned to her teaching duties in Pittsfield High School Tuesday.

DEEP LAKE C. W. A. WORKER INJURED

Louis Ruschewski Dumped from Truck Returning from Work

Louis Ruschewski, 58-year-old Deep Lake resident who was badly injured last Thursday afternoon, when he was accidentally dumped from a truck as he was being taken to his home after CWA working hours, is reported to be in a very critical condition at the Victory Memorial hospital. He is suffering from a skull fracture.

The accident occurred on the Millburn road, according to Dr. M. H. Gindich, who gave first aid when Ruschewski was taken to his emergency hospital in Lake Villa.

Ruschewski had been working with CWA men on a project at Deep Lake. He was returning from work about 6:15, riding on a dump truck, which was not the official truck run by the CWA to accommodate the workers, according to reports. The truck unexpectedly dumped, and Ruschewski struck his head on a hard object on the ground.

During the summer Mrs. Ruschewski runs the Dew-Drop Inn. There are two children in the family.

Mrs. Maria Sprague Is Pneumonia Victim

Has Spent Past Year and a Half with Antioch Relatives

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie Sprague, 78, who passed away Sunday in the Lake County General hospital in Waukegan as a result of pneumonia, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Strang funeral home, with Rev. Rex Simms officiating. Interment is in the Hillside Cemetery.

Mrs. Sprague, who had occupied a room at the Harry Messing home for the past two weeks, became ill last Thursday evening, and was taken to the hospital Saturday. For the past year and a half she has been a resident of Antioch, and has visited with a number of families.

She was born July 4, 1855, in Huntington, Ind., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Rinear, and a sister of the late Mrs. J. R. Cribb and Will Rinear. She was united in marriage to John Richardson October 19, 1873, at Volo, Ill. Within a short time they moved to Prairie Farm, Wis., where Richardson was postmaster for many years. He was killed in a train accident near Antioch in January, 1894. They had no children.

Later Mrs. Richardson married William Sprague, Prairie Farm, Wis., and they took up a homestead in Beach, North Dakota. Following the death of her second husband at Pontiac, Mich., she lived for a time in Beach, North Dakota; in Antioch for two years, and in Pontiac, Michigan, for a number of years.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Frank Drom, Genoa City, Wis., and five step-children: Mrs. Grace Crawford, Pontiac, Mich.; Bert, Los Angeles, Cal.; William, in the West; Harry, in Canada; and another step-daughter in Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Sister of Late Mrs. Jos. Fillweber Passes Away

Funeral services for Mrs. Carrie Vogel, Solon Mills, will be held Friday afternoon, January 5, at Solon. She passed away at her home in Solon Mills Tuesday afternoon at the age of about sixty-five years.

She was a sister of Mrs. Joseph Fillweber, Antioch, now deceased.

Daughter Is Born To Howard Gaston

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gaston are the parents of a baby daughter born in the Victory Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning, January 3. Mrs. Gaston bore her marriage was Miss Ruth Panowick.

THE PROBLEM OF THE SMALL TOWN

"What makes a small town, or rather why does a small town remain a small town?" This query was addressed today to one of Antioch's prominent business men by a representative of the Antioch News, who was somewhat astounded to hear the business man's prompt but brief answer, "Small people."

Hard words, those, but do they not start a train of thought that should lead to a frank and helpful self-analysis?

Asked to elucidate upon his laconic expression, the business man did so with no hesitancy. All large, progressive towns, he said, were once small towns. What made them grow into well-planned, well-organized centers of population? Did they just grow up unguided and in haphazard manner such as were built in the new found gold fields or oil-producing areas, which were destined to become "ghost towns" when the natural resource dwindled? They did not.

The well-ordered city of today will be found to have had not only an advantage in the matter of strategic location, or some natural resource, but it has had also the guiding influence of some civic spirited group, such as a chamber of commerce or other organization, the members of which have pooled their efforts to improve the community they selected as their home and the place of their business or professional activity.

The truth of this statement is attested by the facts as related to the progress being made by any growing town. The cities along the North Shore of Lake Michigan are outstanding examples. Waukegan, Kenosha, Racine and Milwaukee all have potentially the same natural advantages, and all are showing progress even in spite of the depression. All have live chambers of commerce vying with one another and creating the element of competition that has come to be recognized as an essential to healthy progress in trade.

Today's competition is not between individuals or firms in the same town, but it is between whole communities. It matters little whether the stranger within our gates spends his dollar with Smith, Jones or Robinson, so long as he leaves his dollar and his good will in the community. "Small people" and unthinking merchants are those who will send a customer out of town rather than see him visit a so-called rival establishment across the street. Petty jealousies and unfair competitive business methods never promoted the general welfare of any community, whereas, whole-hearted and intelligent co-operation has built many thriving cities that had less to start with than has Antioch.

Present day statistics tell us that only one small town in ten is actually making a progress; the other nine are either at a standstill for the present, or are actually going backward.

Antioch needs an active chamber of commerce. The town enjoys the unique advantage of being the hub of the lake region of Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin. What are we going to do about it?

A chamber of commerce with a nearly 100 per cent membership among the business and professional interests will answer that question in terms of community growth and progress if given a chance to act.

FOOD BUDGET IS ONE OF HOMEMAKER'S FOREMOST PROBLEMS

Day's Menu Should Include Milk, Vegetables, Fruit, Cereals, Meat, Fat

One satiated New Year's resolution is to swear to keep within a budget for the year. So much for this, so much for that. The housewife's chief budgeting is concerned with her food expenditure.

There's not only the expenditure to be considered, however, but how to obtain the best and most nourishing results at little cost.

The day's menu should include it possible:

Milk—one quart for each child; one pint for each adult, including milk used in preparing cooked foods.

Vegetables—a serving of one raw and one cooked vegetable.

Fruits—Two daily, one of them citrus.

Cereals—two, including bread; one whole-grained.

Meat and meat substitute—meat, cheese, fish, eggs, beans, lentils.

Fat—such as butter, cream, or vegetable oils.

Water eight glasses.

Food authorities advise dividing the food money into fifths, as follows: 1. Vegetables and fruit; 2. Milk and cheese; 3. Meats, fish or eggs; 4. Bread and cereals; 5. Fats, sugar and other groceries.

Another classification calls for one-fourth of the amount for milk products, and less than one-sixth for meats, poultry and fish.

Among the best ways of cutting down on food expenditure is to buy fruits and vegetables in season, buy bulk goods, in large quantities if possible; use dried fruits and vegetables when you can; uncooked cereals; cheaper cuts of meat, and the less expensive canned goods.

Among the more inexpensive cuts of meat and fish are foreshank, flank, brisket, liver (beef) tongue, heart, hindsank, dried beef, rump, shonlder cuts, neck cuts, cod and salmon (canned).

A list of the fruits and vegetables in season will follow in an early issue.

Beautiful

Tony—You should see the graceful lines of her neck and her liquid eyes. Her skin is like velvet and her breath smells like new-mown hay. Jack—Are you speaking of a girl or a cow?

High, Elaborately Curled Ceffures Are Now a Vogue

Movie Stars and Society Women Acclaim This Sophistication

While most of us still cling to the rather long bob with varying types of end curls or rolls, certain movie stars, if you have observed, are setting the mode for elaborate curled ceffures way up on the back of the head.

As a necessary result of this trend, parts are continued far down the back of the head, to enable the dressers to curl the back hair in waves of tiny puffs. Not a single of air and escapes being curled and above the neckline.

The front of the head avoids frizzled locks, or elaborate arrangement to detract from the effect of the back, or to interfere with any ribbon or diadem which may adorn the crown.

Bangs are struggling to return, but they fail to carry the rest of the hair downward toward the front. They are accompanied by the swirl, or are cut sparingly in wisps or fluffy bits to soften the simplicity of front line. This hor-on-ter of rolls and curls in the back is striking on some persons, while on others it simply jars with their entire appearance and personality. It's for you to decide, of course.

The extreme ceffures are decidedly sophisticated, and are not appropriate except for evening when accompanied by dazzling glad rags.

Savory Pork Dish

A good cold-weather dish is pork chops, but here is a novel way to prepare them. Place seven pork chops in three quarts of cold water. Let them boil slowly for half an hour, then add one and one-half packages of macaroni broken in small pieces. Cook until the macaroni is tender, and salt and pepper to taste.

It is estimated there are 50,000 earthworms in an acre of land, and if it weren't for the earthworms there would be no vegetation and man and other animals would perish.

According to the figures, you have more than 74,500 direct ancestors. Tell this to anybody who offers to trace your ancestral tree back.

Don't Buy Bulk!

Buy HEAT—and save money on your fuel costs

Fuel bulk is not heat! The heat a fuel is able to produce comes from burnable elements in the fuel. With ordinary fuels, much of the bulk is sheer waste—for it will not burn. If you burn Waukegan Koppers Coke, you get more heat with fewer tons! For here is a fuel that is almost all carbon—the best producing substance. The few ashes left by Waukegan Koppers Coke are proof of its complete burning quality. It leaves only a small part of the ashes left by ordinary fuels. Waukegan Koppers Coke not only eliminates waste—but it makes no dust, smoke or soot—is easy to regulate—needs less attention. Ask your fuel dealer to send you a trial load. You'll find it heats your home more efficiently—and economically.

Millburn Defeats Gurnee in Basketball By One Free Throw

The Millburn lads were victorious in the basketball game played with a Gurnee town team at the high school Tuesday, January 2, winning by one free throw, 19-18. Millburn made a first start, and were leading at the close of the half, 13-6. Peterson scored five baskets on easy closeup shots.

Gurnee returned fire in the second half, and gained the lead, until with four more minutes of play, the score stood 16-13 in Gurnee's favor. Millburn succeeded in tying the score, after which each team made two points, again tying. With one minute to go, Peterson and Lewin got tangled up and each was given a free throw on technical fouls, Peterson making his try to win the game for Millburn, 19-18.
